Increasingly popular as an alternative, Ultra Surefire has steered the water mist market for the last 10 years, proving its effectiveness in testing and demonstrations time and again. Pioneering water mist technology, Ultra Surefire became the first company to test successfully to DD BS 8458 Standards, with every fire solution rigorously tested. So strong is our commitment, our team form part of the working group committee for water mist standards.

Being trusted to engineer and design mission critical systems of national importance is a constant responsibility for our team who are skilled in installing fire protection systems, even when buildings are in daily use. Ultra Surefire's advanced water mist protection systems provide rapid and fully effective fire protection and control across a wide range of environments, including healthcare, hotels, leisure, waste and recycling, data centres and heritage properties.

Our High Pressure and Low Pressure systems have proved their value, demonstrating their flexibility and reliability with low water consumption, easy to retrofit, speedy clean up if discharged, safe for personnel in occupied areas and effective at reducing smoke damage. Clear advantages over gas extinguishing and sprinkler systems, demand standards and quality installers every time – look for FIRAS and LPC Approval from your water mist provider.
